REACH Regulation (EC) No 1907/2006

We are working in close collaboration with our suppliers in order to fulfill the requirements of the legislation. In the best interest of getting existing supply chains fully REACH compliant, WolfVision expects from its direct and indirect suppliers that all substances contained in products supplied to WolfVision which require registration will be registered in due time.

Therefore, all manufacturing operations of WolfVision are certified (ISO 9001; ISO 14001) and approved by local authority requirements, fulfilling national and European legislations. Audits are performed on a regular basis by external bodies and quality improvement initiatives are regularly implemented to support our approach to continuous improvement.

We have asked all our suppliers to identify articles (containing a substance present in the candidate list) for all of our products and we could not identify any harmful substances based on the information received from our suppliers.

WolfVision is aware of its duty to provide downstream-information concerning SVHC (Substances of Very High Concern) in the supply chain and will stay in close contact with all suppliers in order to monitor any possible variances, due to technical development or new vendors - and will provide the relevant information accordingly.
